Hi There.

This is a T2 tournament report for one I went to yesterday at my local game store.

PreTourney Garbage

I had been Toying with a 4CU deck for quite some time but could never quite get the perfect mix but when I removed a few counterspells and added a few more creatures the deck seemed to run very smoothly. And with some help from the sideboard I found I could beat other blue decks and sligh decks quite well. I had planned on playing my cool sligh deck o the tournament when at 3 in the morning I had a sudden urge to make a deck.

I threw it together and without playtesting a game I was off to the tourney.

* 4CU Phat *

4 Waterspout - Always always ALWAYS came in handy
 2 Derelor - I am a huge fan of the Derelor and it worked very well today
 2 Air Elemental - I always prefer spout to this but this guy is nothing to complain about
 4 Ophidian - With all the removal in this deck the snake rocks (even more so than usual)
 4 Man-o'-War - Helped slow down the Sligh curve and is an overall awesome creature
 4 Counterspell - Do I have to explain Everything? (:
 2 Dismiss - I like this card. Late game it is so good.
 3 Impulse - See counterspell explanation
 4 Incinerate - Pretty good in this deck. I might take out 1 for an Impulse
 3 Terror -Even with the Derelors these work well to take down opponent's phatties
 3 Quake - Weenie Control or Late game finisher - gennerally worked well.

15 Island
 4 Undiscovered Paradise
 3 City of Brass
 3 Gemstone Mine

SideBoard

3 Scragnoth - My key to beatin other blue decks.
 3 Pyroblast
 3 Hydroblast
 4 Perish
 2 Disenchant - Didn't use it all day

I get there with some friends at about 1.

The tournament is ready to start so we all pay our 5$ and sit down against our first opponent.

Round 1

Rory Johnston

B/R Beatdown

Wouldn't you beleive it paired up against a friend first round. I thought that only happened in tournament reports! (:

-Game 1-

He plays a lot of creatures quickly and I stop the bleeding with two quakes and a Derelor when I am at 6. I am holding 6 Land am trying to bluff a counterspell. Eventually on his last turn to live he torchs me for 6 and I reveal my hand of all land cynically.

-Game 2-

After me siding in hydros and him siding in pyros nothing really changes.
I take control early by quaking away a shadow guildmage a black knight and a fallen askari and serve beatdown with much phat.

-Game 3-

This game was a joke. First I quake some creatures. Then I manowar three times in a row, with an ophi out then serve bwatdown with a derelor and a spout while incinerating his creatures.

Maybe next time Ror.

Games:2-1 Matches:1-0

Round 2

Jasar Elarar

Stange StOmPy

This guy is playing the strangest StOmPy I have ever seen using sentinels barbed foliages and other oddities.

-Game 1-

He plays a first turn Rogue which after I take three beats terror. He plays no land and promptly concedes once I start beating him down with a Elemental and a Phid.

-Game 2-

He puts in Scragnoth (Which I don't care about) , I put in 4 perishes. Hehehe. I didn't even need the perished as a first turn vineyard lets me play a first turn Ophi, second turn spout, third turn derelor. And I terror his Scrag and counter his Boa.

Matches: 2-0 Games:4-1

Round 3

Max ???

Baby Blue

-Game 1-

I frown when I see my first hand - All Land. Doeth. I mulligan down to 6.No land. I mulligan down to 5 and keep my mediocre hand. He counters like 10 times and I die to a azimet drake.

-Game 2-

I smile when I side in my three pyros and Scraggies and he put in...Nothing. I look at my hand - No land. Crap!

I go down to six - My hand has four land and 2 Scragnoth.

He plays ophies and stuff which I kill fairly quickly but I still cannot draw a fifth land to win me the game (he has NO way to deal with the Scrag). On the 28th turn I die to spout with four land on the table. My next 7 cards? lands.

Matches:2-1 Games:4-3

Round 4

Gulian Fane

Blue Weirdness

The strangest blue deck I have ever seen with like 2 creatures, 19 counters and a capsize or two.

-Game 1-

I wreck him by forcing through a spout

-Game 2-

I wreck him by playing a Scrag after a disk goes off.

Sorry Gulian, Maybe Blue Sanity would be better next time.

Matches:3-1 Games:6-3

Round 5/ Last Round

Adam Locke Norton of Team Naked Monkey WazBangling Cheerios
A stange G/b that worked VERY well.

We check out the records and we see that If I lose one game to him He wins the tourney and If he loses two games to me I win. I think I have a good chance of beating him but when he offers me a draw I cannot refuse.
hj

Matches: 3-1-1 Games: 6-3

So I tied for first only losing to some lame Baby Blue. So maybe their is hope for 4cu eh?

I am going to the Junior Superseries in Vancouver next week and I might be using this.

Props

Julian for organizing a cool tournament
Julian for taking me to see "wag the dog" after
Adam - Original decks are cool!
The Dojo - For giving me ideas and information

Slops

Max - I can't believe you beat me. You always beat me!! No matter what you play! ARGGHHH!!!

Max- You owe me 3$ man!

Julian- You owe me 4$ man!

Ryan (Not Ryan Fuller) - Stealing Adam's deck and denying it when everyone watched you do it and you had all the cards.

Julian - "<strange laughing> I won.....<grunts> I hammer'd him <laugh/grunt>"

Adam - I saw you make 10 mistakes in a 5 minute game.
